Methodists Reaffirm Faith In Eighteenth Amendment

SAY POPULAR REFERENDUM IS ILLEGAL

Temperance Committee in Report Says No Authority for Such Move

CONFUSING PUBLIC Effort Being Made to Have Report Be Approved by Conference as Whole

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 23.—(UP)—The report of the committee on temperance, prohibition and public morals declaring there is no authority in the constitution for a popular referendum on prohibition and reaffirming its faith in the 18th amendment was made available to the delegates of the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today through publication in today's issue of the Christian advocate.

Some delegates believed an effort would be made to have the report approved by the conference, but others declared that the press of other matters and the desire to adjourn the conference by Wednesday might prevent it ever reaching the floor.

"The Methodist Episcopal church believes in national prohibition," the committee report said. "Experience with it vindicates the wisdom and vision of those who gave us the law. Its merits are not determined by a straw vote referendum."

"We believe in the will of the majority when it is expressed through the ballot box, but maintain that such will of the majority should be expressed in a legal and constitutional manner. We submit that the American people will never sanction violation of the principles of or deviations from the provisions of our constitutional government whether it be to amend or repeal any part of our constitution."

"There is no authority in the federal constitution for a popular referendum," the report continued. "The constitution itself would have to be amended in order to invest a general referendum with legal and political responsibility."

PROSECUTION OF CURTIS MAY NOT BE CARRIED OUT AS COUNSEL ENGAGED

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 23.—(UP)—John Hughes Curtis may not be prosecuted for his Lindbergh baby hoax, it was suggested today as former Congressman Joseph T. Deal announced in Norfolk that "the real story of Curtis' work remains to be told."

Deal retained Attorney W. C. Pender who has been here representing Curtis, presumably attempting to arrange $10,000 bail on the misdemeanor charge under which the Norfolk boat builder is held.

Deal's statement Sunday asked the public not to judge Curtis hastily and urged that the public await a full disclosure of the facts surrounding Curtis' negotiations and his late "confession" that they were fiction.

Prosecution of Curtis, it was believed, would depend upon testimony by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, whose baby Curtis supposedly was attempting to return, but which lay dead all the time within sight of its home.

Lindbergh seemed reluctant to appear against the boat builder. He did not file the charge on which Curtis is now held, and indicated he wanted little to do with the case at the time of the arrest.

national confidence upon which all employment rests.

"C—The continuation of the work of the Reconstruction Corporation which has overcome the financial strain on thousands of small banks, releasing credit to their communities, the strengthening of building and loan associations, the furnishing of credit to agriculture, the protection of trustee institutions and the support of the financial stability of the railways.

"D—The expansion of credit by the federal reserve banks:

"E—The organized translation of these credits into actualities for business and public bodies:

"F—Unceasing effort at sound strengthening of the foundations of agriculture;

"G—The continuation of such public works in aid to unemployment as do not place a strain on the taxpayer and do not necessitate government borrowing.

"H—Continuation of national, community and individual efforts in relief of distress;

"I—The introduction of the five day week in government which would save the discharge of 100,000 employees and would add 30,000 to the present list;

"J—The passage of the home loan discount bank legislation which would protect home owners from foreclosure and would furnish millions of dollars of employment in home improvement without cost to the treasury;

Distress Relief

"K—Financial aid by means of loans from the reconstruction corporation to such states as, due to the long strain, are unable to continue to finance distress relief;

"L—The extension of the authority of the reconstruction corporation not only in a particular I called attention to last December—that is, loans on sound security to industry where they would sustain and expand employment—but also in view of the further contraction of credit to increase its authority to expend the issue of its own securities up to $3,000,000,000 for the purpose of organized aid to "income producing" works throughout the nation, both of public and private character."

The president said the financing of "income producing" works by the reconstruction corporation "is an investment operation, requires no congressional appropriation, does not unbalance the direct issue of government bonds, does not involve added burdens upon the taxpayer either now or in the future."

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

SANTA MONICA, May 23. (To the Editor of The Register:) The other day I wrote a little "gag" about the main thing that handicapped repeal of prohibition was the wrong people are for it. I still claim it's true. Prohibition is not a party issue. It's not a wet and dry issue. You will find it is country against city. Your city's wet and the country is against it more because it's the city dictating to them what to do. And if you don't think it's that way, you wait till you count the votes. Country folks know the whole thing won't work, but they are not going to let "town folks" tell 'em so. That's why I say the wrong people are for it, to get it through.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

He was married in 1883 to Jane Paterson, a girl from his home town in Scotland. They had one son, Viscount Glenapp, and three surviving daughters.

The fourth daughter, the Hon. Elsie Mackay, better known as Poppy Wyndham, the film actress, provided Lord and Lady Inchcape with the greatest blow of their lives. On March 13, 1928, she set out from Cranwell airfield with Capt. W. G. R. Inchecliffe, pilot, on an attempt to fly the Atlantic. They were never heard of again.

The Hon. Elsie, whose marriage to Dennis Wyndham was annulled, left 500,000 pounds. It was presented to the nation by her parents, to form an Elsie Mackay memorial fund.

Lord Inchcape was made a baron in 1911, a viscount in 1924, and an earl in 1929.

Desert Wind Sends Mercury Up

Although the mercury in the official thermometer soared to a 97 degree point today at 11:30 a. m. to set the mark for the hottest day of the year so far, the weather, even with the sultry desert wind, is decidedly not "unusual," according to E. E. Campbell, in charge of the mark.

For the past 10 years, there has been but one May when the temperature did not range from 90 to 103 degrees. There have been hotter days in previous Mays than today, according to the records. The heat was nearly as great on April 10 of the current year when the mercury touched the 95 degree mark on Campbell's thermometer. The mercury at S. Hill & Sons store in Santa Ana hit the 92 degree mark at noon today. On February 26 it reached 98.

Sound Movies May Be Installed For Santa Ana Church

A successful demonstration of sound motion pictures was presented in the First Congregational church last night by a Los Angeles company. It was revealed today by the Rev. Perry F. Shrock, pastor of the church.

Acoustics of the church auditorium were excellent for the sound apparatus, the Rev. Mr. Shrock said, and it is quite possible that the church may acquire a complete outfit for regular use after the summer vacation period. Since 1917 the local church has used motion pictures in the Sunday evening services. Now, however, the stock of silent films has become exhausted and it is impossible to secure films that have not been shown here before. For this reason, the church plans to install the sound apparatus, it is said.

A Musical Instrument of Quality

PHILCO Transitone, when installed, is all out of sight except the tiny control panel on the steering column of your car. This panel looks like quality and is quality. It is right at home with the other equipment of any fine car or boat. Convenient, just a hand-span from the steering wheel. This receiver is built on the famous PHILCO balanced unit super-heterodyne principle. It has exclusive PHILCO automatic volume control and the most wonderful, improved electro dynamic speaker you ever heard. Transitone is rugged in design and built for use on the road. It is the only motor radio which gives volume, distance, selectivity and clear tones, regardless of the operation of the motor's ignition system. Other designers have attempted to eliminate electrical disturbances but PHILCO alone has accomplished this. Any time, anywhere, city or country, day or night, Transitone will make your car or your boat a brilliant center of radio entertainment.

JOBLESS FACE CONDITION WITH REAL COURAGE

That the spirit of courage under adversity shown by the unemployed persons of Santa Ana is one of the encouraging features of the present situation was a statement made at the office of the Citizens' Unemployment Emergency committee, Tenth and North Main streets, today.

"I was interested in that editorial in The Register last Thursday on the different way in which different people meet the present trying conditions," declared Robert Speed, executive secretary of the Citizens' committee. "The tribute to those who are taking it philosophically is well deserved, but the point that has impressed me again and again the last few months is that a great majority of our huge registration of nearly 2000 persons is bearing up thus courageously."

"Many of them are in such financial straits as to try their souls, yet remain cheerful and hopeful. And they often display the most generous spirit toward each other. We have had more than one instance where a man was waiting in the office in hope that a job might come in over the telephone, yet when one did arrive he stepped aside, allowing some other to take it. That is sacrifice of a high order, and when it happens it is really inspiring to the rest of us."

Needs Revealed

"Again and again men have come to me and said, 'I don't want to take anything away from anybody who needs it more than I do, but I certainly need it badly enough myself. I've walked my shoes nearly off looking for work without finding a thing. My rent, gas and light bills are away behind. I don't know what I'll do if I don't get something soon.'"

"And then when we tell them that we have food available, that there is no need for anybody to go hungry, the almost invariable answer is, 'No, I don't want charity, I can't bring myself to take it. All I want is a chance to earn a living. I'll take anything that has a living in it.'"

"Of course we are daily deluged with applications for work that we cannot fill, but one class of workers we are always short of that is capable women of middle-age or under who can take housekeeping and stay in the home of the employer. Of the large number of women registered with us for housework nearly all have families and must return home at night."

Conditions Bad Elsewhere

"The quantity of seasonal work we have been able to get in the fruit and on ranches has been disappointing. The orange packing houses have been swamped with applications for work and while they have all expressed the utmost willingness to co-operate with us, they are, first of all, business houses and it is natural their old help, people who have been with them season after season, should have some preference. We have many people, both men and women, experienced in picking and packing, who have not yet been able to get work."

"Here is something we should remember when tempted to get discouraged," Speed said. "Conditions in Santa Ana are no worse than elsewhere. In fact we're better organized to cope with the need here than in many places. Everywhere relief organizations have their hands full. Last Thursday's Star-News of Pasadena carried an article stating, 'Stirred by the many cases of threatened starvation among the unemployed Pasadena citizens and their families,' the Chamber of Commerce of Pasadena joined with other agencies in an appeal for relief funds to those able to give. The Star-News story comments forcefully on the 'gravity of the situation' in Pasadena."

A cash contribution to the work of the committee has been made by the Santa Ana Woman's club.

The sailors were found, as was the body. The body was a buddy of the sailors, who had imbibed too freely and long and had passed out for the evening. The sailors explained they were carrying their mate to a car.

No one was arrested.

REV. MINCK IN SUNDAY TALK ON PASSOVER

ORANGE, May 23.—The Men's chorus gave the music at the evening service at the Christian church. The Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor, brought the message in the morning on the theme, "The Unknown Friend."

The Rev. Mr. Minck said in part: "Jesus knew the time was drawing nigh for His departure and He took the old observance of the passover as the time to institute the Lord's Supper, observed today by all His followers."

"It is easy to overstress form and lose its significance. The disciples did not ask Jesus 'shall we celebrate the passover?' but they asked 'where shall we celebrate the passover?'"

"Today, the symbols of communion and baptism are a vital part of Christianity."

"This unknown friend of Jesus, not a leader but a faithful follower, was ready at the call of his master. The upper room was prepared for the institution of the Lord's supper."

"Unknown friends are about us, and also unknown enemies there is a possibility of failure." How shall we meet these unknown enemies? Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation, and your victory is already won."

"Let Jesus Have His Way" (Lorenz) was given by the Men's chorus, with solo parts by Arnold Todd and Randall Rivers. The chorus sang "I Know Whom I Have Believed" (McGrannahan). Cecile Berriman sang "The Way-side Cross," followed by "Memories of Galilee" by the chorus.

KEEP FAITH IN JESUS CHRIST, URGES PASTOR

EL MODENA, May 23.—At the morning service at El Modena Presbyterian church, the Rev. James E. Fick, pastor of the church, occupied the pulpit. He said in part:

"I wish to use as a text this morning, the 31st and 32nd verses of the 22nd chapter of Luke — 'And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.'"

"When people have lost their property, I have seen them quit the church. Shame on us; may God give us faith, when the way goes heavy. Still our faith holds, when we are conscious He is praying for us. Satan has desired thee, God richly rewards the man or woman whose faith holds. We are sure that the Spirit of God talks to man. The grace of God is sufficient for us. There is nothing comes to us but that is permitted of God. How marvelously God cares for His own. We are apt to get scattered as sheep do."

"A boat rescued some people from the water. There were 20 in it, and the boat could barely carry them. There was a very excitable man who kept moving around. And the boatman said, 'Young man, sit steady in the boat, for not only your own life, but the lives of others, depend on it.' Now is the time for us to sit steady in the boat for many lives are at stake besides ours. The Word says, 'Have faith in God.' I was thinking some time ago, the reward of the wicked is the wicked's portion. When trouble and death come you have no one to go to, but God. Though you may have wandered away, still you know where God is, and any time the Spirit moves you, you can come back to Him. Judas threw away the life of Jesus for 33 cents. He took the money back and threw it down, but he couldn't find any place of repentance. I pray that your faith may fail not, though tribulations come, and though your friends may not believe, I pray that your faith in Jesus Christ may fail not."

U.C. ASTRONOMY CLASS VISITS OBSERVATORY

Under the leadership of their instructor, Mrs. Jennie Tessema, the astronomy students of Santa Ana Junior college enjoyed an excursion to the Mt. Wilson observatory Friday.

The party of 75 left Santa Ana at 8 a. m. Friday morning and arrived at the observatory at 11. After the picnic dinner at noon the party was taken to the astronomical museum where there was an exhibit of photographic plates of the moon and the various phenomenon of the stars and sun.

The famous 100-inch reflector, the largest in the world, was one of the main objects of interest. The four and a half ton mirror, the 30-ton mounting and the 100-ton axis were other objects of interest. The students learned that the 100-inch telescope weighs over 100 tons but is so perfectly balanced that it is moved on the axis by a three and one-half horse power motor.

No less interesting, according to those who made the trip, was the sun telescope which is a great tower than catches the rays of the sun and so cools them that studies of sun-spots and spectrum analysis of the sun can be made. Mt. Wilson is one of the astronomical centers of the world, where day and night, seven huge telescopes are busy probing the mysteries of the universe.

The inspection of the instruments was finished by 3 p. m. and the group was excused until the lecture at 7 p. m. After the lecture, the 60-inch reflector was opened and class members were permitted to view several objects in the sky. A number of the group stayed over night at the hotel, and returned home today.

9 BURGLARIES SOLVED: HOLD 4 TO ANSWER

Four men arrested Friday by San Diego sheriff's officers in co-operation with Santa Ana police and John Stanton, chief of police at Tustin, today waived preliminary examinations on burglary charges and were held to answer to the superior court, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court.

The four plan to go into the superior court immediately to plead. They were each placed under bail of $5000 which was not made in any case.

The arrest of the gang, clears up nine burglaries, in Santa Ana, in the county and in Tustin, according to officers. The four men have admitted that many, Police Chief Howard declared.

The men, Hubert S. Rambeau, 20, of 111 Stanford street, Garden Grove; Sherman D. Mashburn, 18, of 520 North Birch street, Santa Ana; Floyd C. Hoots, 20, 1027 Custer street, Santa Ana, and Annas Newcomb, 19, of Tustin, officers say have admitted the following burglaries:

Binkley and Beasley grocery store at 1206 East Fourth street, twice; Tustin Hardware company; grocery store of A. U. Hiett, 602 Fruit street; L. H. Cain service station at Fifth and Artesia streets; Mountain View service station at Tustin; Everyready service station, Tustin; a service station at Garden Grove road and Ocean avenue, and a grocery store at Fruit and Garfield street.

Some of the loot taken from several of the places has been recovered by officers.

Outline Plans For Brotherhood

FULLERTON, May 23.—Specific plans for the work of the State Brotherhood in the future were presented to members of the Fullerton Federated Church brotherhood by Dr. S. Earl Taylor, of Riverside, who is executive secretary of the state organization, at a meeting held in the Isaac Walton clubhouse in Hillcrest park, with Harold McCabe, newly elected president of the local brotherhood, presiding.

A round table discussion on "The Stewardship of Life and Money" was held by William Gantz, of Beverly Hills, formerly a prominent attorney in New York City. Songs were led by Charles Puchler, of South Pasadena.

The next meeting of the local brotherhood will be held at the Fullerton Christian church with Tom Gowen in charge of arrangements. A committee consisting of President McCabe, J. L. McCulloch and Harry May was selected to set the time and instructions were given them to co-operate with the Laymen's association regarding a revival which is planned to be held in Fullerton at some time in the future. Efforts will be made to get either Gypsy Smith or John Brown to conduct the revival.

SAY HOOF AND MOUTH DISEASE IS WIPED OUT

With no new outbreaks of the hoof-and-mouth disease in Orange county since the first infection of more than 7500 hogs in the northern section of the county, state and federal officials in charge of controlling the disease are of the opinion that the menace to livestock has been wiped out.

The present outbreak of the disease in Southern California has been restricted to three foci of infection according to state officers. These foci are: Orange county, Los Angeles county, and San Bernardino county.

On May 7, 10 days after the first diagnosis of the disease, all infected and exposed herds had been slaughtered, and buried. No new infection has been observed or reported since that time according to federal officers. Meanwhile cleaning and disinfecting of the premises involved have progressed rapidly.

State and federal veterinary officers in charge of the campaign against the disease here have said that the type of virus responsible for the outbreak in Orange county appears to be of low virulence. The disease has affected only swine, which are especially susceptible to the malady.

BULGIN PREACHES TRIO OF SERMONS

Sunday was a busy day for Rev. E. J. Bulgin, the noted Evangelist who has been holding meetings at the Paul Rader tabernacle, Third and Bush streets. In the morning he preached at the Paul Rader tabernacle in Los Angeles, and Rev. U. E. Harding delivered the sermon at the local tabernacle. In the afternoon Rev. Bulgin preached on "The Divinity of Christ," or "The Question of the Age—What Think Ye of Christ?"

In the evening he preached to a large crowd, his sermon being so interspersed with humorous sayings and anecdotes as to keep the audience in excellent humor.

Bulgin said the words of his text could be found in Second Samuel, 23:10, "He arose, and smote the Philistines until his hand was weary, and his hand clave unto the sword."

"The most reasonable thing in the world is the Bible. It doesn't ask anything unreasonable. It doesn't demand anything unreasonable. David's blade was a tested blade. This old Bible is a tested blade. If it hadn't been God's book it would have been out of existence a long time ago. It is brighter today than it ever was. Do you know that 400 million copies were sold last year in China alone?"

"In order to destroy the bible you would have to buy 600 million copies in 775 dialects and languages, and burn them. If every bible were destroyed we could still reproduce it entirely from the profane writings in the libraries; from quotations in profane readings where it says, 'Matthew says so and so,' and 'Luke says so and so.'"

"You would next have to go to the music racks and destroy all the music, for 70 percent of the music of the world comes from the Bible. I don't mean jazz. I mean music. Jazz is the Bolshevik of music."

"Next you would have to go to the art galleries and tear from the pedestals, canvases, etc., the works of art, for 90 percent of the art of this world has come from the Bible."

"You would next have to go to the graveyard and tear down those marble slabs on which appear images of Jesus with a lamb, and such images, and all the epitaphs such as 'In my Father's House are Many Mansions.'" Then in addition to that you would have to kill all the saints who would come when you began to destroy the Bible."

"The theme of the great works of all the great writers has come from the Bible, and any of their works if boiled down to a single idea or sentence would be found to be a stolen gem from God's Book."

"I don't give a rap whether a man is a Democrat or a Republican; I want the man. We need a good, Christian man who will see that the laws are enforced, for it is failure to enforce the law which breeds anarchy. So, Democrats, Republicans, Methodist and Congregationalists stop quarreling and work together and try to help things along so the laboring man can get a job. What do we need now? More religion and Christianity, and not so much church prejudice."

PASTOR TELLS OF BLUNDERS IN RELIGION

The Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor of the Church of Christ spoke yesterday morning on the subject "Some Religious Blunders."

In his talk he said in part: "In the Fisher Church History I read: 'Tranquility on this doctrine it might not have been easy to reach, and the Fathers of the council chose to formulate it in phrases culled from the scriptures, from which none would dissent.' This was spoken about the doctrine of the Holy Spirit. Surely no one who believes the Bible to contain the word of God would object to what God says on a subject."

"Opinions cause blunders so many times. There are not so many blunders over what the word says, but over an opinion or an interpretation. It was a religious blunder when the council of Toledo, Spain, wrote into a human creed 'Iliquo' and caused a division in East and the West. If it should be granted that they were right in other things, 'It is one of the chief causes of the division between the Roman Catholic church and the Greek Catholic church. It seems like such a little thing to cause such a division there."

"Some today are making religious blunders in doing what is called in the book as wrestling the scriptures. As an example there are many today who take the language of Christ to the Apostles in Matt. 19:3 'Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out demons'; and misapply it by trying to make it general in its application. This is a religious blunder."

"Too many are blundering on so-called divine healing thinking that God is intervening in a miraculous way. The apostles could cure and do other miracles instantaneously, and did it in that way. In each instance there was no doubt of the miracle in the minds of those who saw it."

Many of the false religious blunders of today are the outgrowth of some deluded person who misapplies some scripture on the subject of miracles and their application in the establishing age of Christianity. The cures which were by Christ, the apostles, and the ones who had the spiritual gift of healing in that age were for the purpose of confirming the word they preached, and no one was left in doubt, for they were real."

S. A. BANKERS TO GO TO STATE MEETING

At least two Santa Ana bankers will attend the forty-first annual convention of the California Bankers' association which will be held in San Francisco May 25 to 28 at the Palace hotel. It was learned today, A. J. Cruikshank, president of the First National bank, and A. I. Mellenthin, vice president of the Commercial National bank, are the local bankers who have indicated their intention of attending the convocation.

What business may expect of Congress and the latter's obligation to the country in assisting in a return to normal conditions will be the theme of Dr. William Bennett Munro, of the California Institute of Technology, noted economist, who will be one of the featured speakers at the convention.

LUNCHEON ENJOYED MIDWAY CITY, May 23.—A lovely luncheon was given recently by Mrs. Charles Whitsett at her Roosevelt street home honoring Miss Margaret Day, of Garden Grove, who is to become a bride on June 8. The three-course luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, the table being lovely in its color scheme of pink and white. Sweet peas were used in decorating.

Present were the honor guest, Miss Margaret Day, her mother, Mrs. B. R. Day, and aunt, Mrs. Doane, of Oakland; Mrs. Fred Soest and Mrs. Clarence Pearson, of Garden Grove, and the hostess, Mrs. Whitsett.

Court Notes

Carl C. Connor who sued Glenn Updyke for damages totaling $30,587.35 as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Buena Park in May, 1931, has been awarded $2400 by a jury in department three of the superior court. The Aetna Life Insurance company also was awarded $826.75 as intervenor.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames has ordered Obis Shanks, former Fullerton advertising salesman, to jail on a charge of contempt of court. The jail sentence was suspended and the hearing continued until June 17. Shanks was held in contempt for failure to pay his former wife, Willie Shanks, $75 in back alimony in compliance with a court order issued in April.

Elmer R. Jans has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from his wife, Mary M. Jans, on a plea of desertion. The decree was awarded by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

Charging that his wife, Eva A. Rhoades, to whom he was married October 3, 1914, in Abilene, S. D., deserted him and their children in 1923, returned only to repeat the offense in 1931 and that she refused to care for her children and asked a divorce so that she might marry another man, Claude F. Rhoades has filed suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion.

ACTIVITIES OF M'ADOO DURING WAR VARIED

(This is the third of a series of short sketches on high points in the life of William G. McAdoo, who is to lecture at the high school auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. McAdoo is giving this lecture as a means of helping the local Y. M. C. A. to carry on its work during these days when financial problems are so seriously threatening the continuance of its important service.—Editor.)

When William Gibbs McAdoo was called to Washington by President Wilson in 1913, he undertook, without realizing it, one of the heaviest tasks ever faced by an American statesman. Not only did he have to deal with the ordinary problems of the government, but within a short time after he became Secretary of the Treasury in the Wilson cabinet, the World War came on the scene and had to be reckoned with in every move that was made, bringing with it a multiplicity of problems and crises that were enough to try the mettle of any man.

The record of those years in Washington includes at least nine major projects and responsibilities which called on Mr. McAdoo for leadership.

First came the inevitable matter of tariff revision, in which the administration fared about as well as others have done.

Second was the Federal Reserve Bank System, which was instituted under the McAdoo secretariatship, and which called for the organization of an extensive chain of financial centers and the establishment of the financial districts.

This was one of the epochal changes in the financial system of the United States.

Third came the institution of the Farm Loan Banks, and fourth was the creating of the United States Shipping Board, which led to the building of a government-owned merchant marine.

Fifth may be listed as the personal endeavors of the Secretary in the promotion of friendly relations with the South American republics, as a part of the wartime program of the United States. This led Mr. McAdoo to make a personal trip to South America for the purpose of getting closer contacts with his people.

Sixth, there was the formation of the Marine Insurance Bureau, a business project of vast magnitude, and following along with it came the plan for Soldiers' Insurance, which Mr. McAdoo vainly hoped would do away with the evils of a pension system, and which has done good service. Eighth, may be listed the tremendous task of floating the popular bond sales during the war. Liberty loans, followed by the so-called victory loans at the end of the war, amounted to many billions and the machinery for the whole work was under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury.

A ninth activity, which was sufficiently unpopular at the time, but which was necessary, and not lacking in good results, was the direction of the railway systems of the entire nation.

A man with such a background of experience may well be expected to have such a wealth of information on public affairs, and inside knowledge of so much history that any theme on which he may choose to talk will be of supreme interest to people who wish to be well-informed. In the lecture on Thursday evening, Mr. McAdoo will ramble at will among his recollections of what he has called "The Crowded Years," and by the association of his own personality, he will inject new life into the pages of history.

Seeks Information On Factory Site

As a result of a new orchard heating process which it is said may eliminate the use of the smudgepot, Charles E. Rachel, who holds exclusive rights covering the manufacture of the heating material, was in communication with the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce recently, asking for information as to a suitable location in the local citrus belt for a manufacturing plant for the material.

As soon as strategic locations have been selected throughout the Southern California citrus areas steps will be taken in preparation for manufacturing the heating material, it was reported. The movement has been stimulated by recent county and city legislation regulating smudging.

BRIEFLY SPEAKING
Bill Cissell's fire and fight have made the Cleveland Indians a very tough team to beat, and a contender for the pennant.

Gentlemen of the press who have to cover wrestling matches should be furnished with spiked helmets by the front office.

The peanuts are much better at the ball parks and race tracks this year.

The same of nonchalance was expressed by Colonel Edward R. Bradley in his radio address after his horse, Burzio King, won the Derby, when he admitted "the race was very satisfactory" to him.

Low Ponce's White Sox have lost more tough luck ball games this year than any other team in the majors.

The top prize for the Schmeling-Sharkey fight should be, and perhaps will be, $15 plus the government tax.

BRIEF PICKUPS
One of the closest track meets ever held was between Notre Dame and Michigan State, in which Michigan State scored 63-4 points to win by a half point.

A pitcher who was two years old when Babe Ruth was starting his major league career with the Red Sox struck the Babe out in a recent game at Shibe park, the name being Jimmy De Shong, probably a Chinese.

We picked the Athletics to win the American league pennant; the baseball season is now a month old and Mr. Mack still hasn't the flag clinched. It must have been a bad guess.

We picked Economic to win the Derby, but forgot to back him financially, which is just as well because we are a nose better.

Hughie Critz's arm is all right, so some other allibi will have to be thought up for the Giants. Mr. McGraw happens to be needing a good right-handed pitcher, as who doesn't?

MACK'S BAD GUESS
Connie Mack has made at least one bad guess this year, and that was at Cleveland when he pulled his outfielders far in for Pitcher Clint Brown, with men on second and third, and Brown happened to get hold of one and drive it over the boys' heads for a triple.

It may seem odd to you, but it strikes us as perfectly natural that the two remaining holdouts, Heinie Meine of the Pirates and "Rip" Collins of the Browns, have two pretty tough employers to do business with.

The unemployment situation among Chicago tailors has been mollified. They have been busy for several weeks making alterations on White Sox uniforms.

After reading some of the silly chatter of Jack Sharkey it is not hard to see why Boston fans have made a popular idol of Art Shiera.

George Zaharias knocked out Hans Steinke in a wrestling match by bumping Hans' head against the floor. Are these wrestlers becoming soft?

If you ever own a ball club don't call them Sox. Why? Well, look at the major league standings.

IT BOUNCES WELL
Batting averages of ball players who came to the majors from the American Association must be discounted about 20 points because they have been playing with a rubber ball in that league for several years.

One of our hobbies this year will be totaling the number of bases which "Pepper" Martin of the Cardinals steals when Burleigh Grimes is pitching against the Cardinals. This number will be a bad guess.

Mr. Grimes makes runners on first base very weary darning to and fro.

Pepper, by the way must have been in quite a quandary recently trying to decide whether to nurse that dislocated shoulder or his pre-injury batting average of .129.

The original Alice of Wonderland probably felt right at home upon visiting America and seeing the Boston Braves leading the National league.

MICKEY WALKER, BOXING'S NO. 1 PLAYBOY, IS EXCEPTION TO ALL RULES OF LIVING AND FIGHTING

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, May 23.—(UP)—When fighters start going back they usually go fast and for good. There are just enough exceptions to prove the rule. Billy Petrolle is one who rallied from the wet wash to blast his way to bigger and better things. And Mickey Walker, subject of today's little essay, is another.

A little more than six years ago Walker, already a veteran, saw his hopes for a comeback as a featherweight apparently smashed by the falling fists of Joe Dundee. As Mickey, blood streaming from his face, was led from the garden, only his most optimistic friends could see anything but the discard for the pug-nosed Irish.

Returns As Heavyweight
He left the Garden a whipped-to-a-frazzle welter. Thursday night he will return as a lightweight with heavyweights.

Exhibitions in a go against the tough old geezer, Paulino Urcidun. Since chucking his middleweight championship Walker has earned a draw with Jack Sharkey and whipped a mess of men in the class above his.

The Paulino thing, Mickey says, is just to keep his hands in until he gets a crack at the big championship this year or next.

When Walker was in the thick of things as a welter and a middleweight, "Tiger" Flowers, Georges Carpentier, Mike O'Dowd, Harry Greb, Sammy Mandell and Jack Delaney were making the headlines even though they were old timers. Now all of these boys, most of whom lead a Sunday school existence as compared to Mickey, are all but forgotten.

But Mickey with the big heart, Mickey with the ear to ear grin, Mickey with the freckled pan and Mickey with the percheron build, is still around. Plenty much around, I might add.

31 Years of Life
The man is only 31, but those 31 years have been jammed to the hilt, as the boys say, with living. A heap of living. A playboy ever since he started out as a scrawny featherweight, Mickey has hit the high spots, the low spots, and the in-between spots. He's been champion of two divisions, and he's been kicked around by palookas. He's made fortunes and spent fortunes. And he's still going strong.

Mickey will not go down in history as one of the world's leading family men. Cupid has spared him a hundred times and each time the arrow hurt. You have only to read the newspaper headlines below (a few of the hundreds which have heralded Mickey's gadding about) to know why your Aunt Lucy in Wappinger Falls probably considers him a first class rascal and rogue.

Some Headlines
Here are a few of the headlines that have appeared in the last year or so:
"Mickey Walker's wife sues him. Declines to act as punching bag for champion."
"$70,000 suit follows Mickey's party."
"Walker hit her, dancer vows."

U. S. OLYMPIC TRYOUTS NEXT GOAL OF SAINT

A well deserved rest, with liberation from strict training regulations, was ordered today for Ray Cartwright, Santa Ana high school's great half-mile, who added the state championship to his season's collection of prep cinderpath laurels at Modesto Saturday.

Cartwright's time—2 minutes, 06.6 seconds—was exactly four seconds slower than the amazing time he registered in winning the 880 at the Southern California championships in Los Angeles, May 14, but Coach "Chuck" Webber was well satisfied under the conditions.

It was a cold, raw day at Modesto, with a north wind sweeping the field. A morning's rain drenched the track and made the going heavy in the afternoon.

Cartwright ran much of the same kind of a race as he did in the Southern Cal. He let others set the pace during the forepart, then put on his great sprint to pull away from the pack in the straightaway. Fred Rathbun of Long Beach, Cartwright's old Coast league rival, was second, several yards behind. Webb of Manual Arts placed third, Murphy of Hollywood fourth, and Brace of Alameda fifth. Cecil Cross, tout-tout Modesto runner, failed to finish "in the money."

Although there is a possibility that he may take a fling at the half in the Kern County Relays at Taft next Saturday, Cartwright probably will lay off serious work for several weeks. The Saint comes to the next start probably will be in the open semi-final tryouts for the American Olympic team, at Long Beach July 1-2.

Long Beach Poly, running true to form, won the state meet at Modesto with 221-2 points, a new record. Los Angeles Poly was second with 141-2. Hoover H. of Glendale third with 10.

BOZEMAN BULGER, LAST OF 'OLD SCHOOL' OF SPORTS SCRIBBLERS, DIES SUDDENLY

By BILL CORUM
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, May 23.—(INS)—The most difficult of all stories to write is one about the death of a friend; especially if it is a sudden and untimely death.

Colonel Bozeman Bulger, who died from a heart attack at his home in Lynbrook, L. I., yesterday morning, was almost the last of the old school of baseball writers. He belonged to a period that sent out from the press box Lardner, Cobb, Van Loan, Runyon, Rice, Brown, Dryden, McGeehan, Hanna, Crane and Phelan. I do not mean to give the impression that all these men are no longer active. Some are gone, others continue to do fine work in other fields of writing.

But though he was a contributor to the magazines and movies, Uncle Boze followed the baseball trail to the end. Two days before his death he had returned from a swing through the west with the Giants, during which he had prepared a series of magazine articles on John McGraw.

It is a question whether baseball reporting of twenty years ago was better than that of today. A gentleman who had occasion to compare the original "Letters of a Bursler" to those of recent vintage says the newer ones are infinitely superior, the "gifted Mr.

SCHOOL TAX AT BERDOO TO BE CUT 23 CENTS

Planning to slash 23 cents off the district tax levy for public school operation, according to word received here today, the San Bernardino board of education at its last meeting agreed upon a revised budget totalling $791,195. The budget was submitted by Superintendent of Schools L. E. Adams and provides a 17 per cent cut in the district tax rate on the basis of the 1931-32 levy, without allowance for delinquencies. The chamber of commerce directors had called upon the school board to make a 20 per cent cut in its new budget under that of 1931-32. Superintendent Adams informed the school board that the figures approved by the members represents the ultimate that may be hoped for in curtailment of the new budget. The original budget submitted for the new scholastic year totalled $810,441. The school board was informed by Superintendent Adams that he anticipates a total slash of 77 cents in the San Bernardino tax rate for the new fiscal year. This will probably be made up of a 30-cent county tax cut, the 25-cent public schools cut, a 14-cent municipal slash, and a 10-cent junior college reduction. Superintendent Adams explained. Under the present assessed valuations, and without considering tax delinquencies, the district tax rate to be levied by the county as a means of raising the $791,195 school budget will be $1.07, compared with the present school tax rate of $1.30, Adams said. The rate was lowered five cents last year, in fixing the 1931-32 budget.

TAX GROUP TO MAKE STUDY OF CAR EXPENSES

A special committee to investigate costs of operating county automobiles and privately owned automobiles in county service, was named at the last meeting of the joint tax committee of the Orange County Farm bureau and the county boards of the county. A second special committee was named to conduct a further study of school problems in an effort to effect further savings and to determine the committee's position on the county tax rate on schools without embarrassing budgets of the various districts. Members of the committee named to study transportation costs in the county are: W. F. Irwin, Fullerton; R. H. Sidman, Anaheim; and F. B. Browning, Tustin. The special school committee is: R. D. Flaherty, Charles Aubrey and O. M. Rodieck, of Orange. Letters from various large corporations relative to transportation costs and the rates per mile paid for privately owned cars used in business were read and the proposition of Los Angeles county to reduce mileage paid for use of private cars from five cents to four cents was discussed. In appointing the special transportation cost committee, members of the committee expressed the opinion that if the county government should establish a uniform rate for automobile operation, it would effect a considerable saving in county funds. At present the mileage rate varies, members pointed out, as does the flat rate paid for use of various privately owned machines. In appointing the special committee to study further school budget cuts the committee praised the various districts for their splendid cooperation in budget reductions already made. They pointed out that reductions in the various districts already amount to approximately one half million dollars. It was pointed out that in the past, when setting the county school rate the supervisors have allowed more than enough to match the amount paid annually by the state for school purposes. R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the joint tax committee, said that the majority of savings effected on district school budgets had been accomplished through reduction of expenses with a minimum of teachers released. Further cuts will mean the release of more teachers. He said that the joint tax committee has taken the stand that the districts should not release more teachers but if additional savings are necessary should reduce salaries and keep as many teachers at work as possible.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

BIBLE CLASS
TOLD WAY OUT OF DEPRESSION

A stirring challenge to the community to turn to God, to share income with God, to have faith in Him and follow His teachings, as the way out of the depression and the way to a peaceful, successful life, was issued at the session of the Men's Community Bible class yesterday morning by the Rev. W. E. Buchanan, class teacher.

During the lesson on the life of Jacob the popular class teacher told how Jacob had a dream in the desert and realized that God was everywhere and how he made an offering to God, promised to help Him and to give one-tenth of his income to God's work, then made this assertion:

"There is not one man in the United States or the world, who has pledged a tenth of his income to God and who is loyal and true to God who has ever failed in business, morality or life. I have measured these words carefully before uttering them. I am sure of what I am saying. I challenge you to pledge your lives and part of your incomes to God. The God who put the sun in the heavens will never desert you if you help Him."

Law of Retribution

The teacher also recalled how Jacob had tricked his father into giving him Esau's birthright, after Esau had traded it for a meal when he was very hungry. "The law of retribution always works," he went on. "We are always paid back in our own coin. The trick Jacob had pulled made things uncomfortable for him at home and he finally had to leave. He went down to visit Laban and fell in love with his daughter Rachel. He agreed to work seven years for her and did. But when he lifted his wife's veil after the wedding ceremony he found he had been tricked. Laban had given him Leah, Rachel's older sister, instead. How his thoughts must have turned back to the trick he played on his father and Esau and the wrong he had done! His deceit came back to him."

"After 20 years he finally went back to his brother and asked his forgiveness. It was granted and he then lived in peace."

Urges Repentance

"Men if you have done things that are not right, if you have wronged your brothers, in the name of God face them. Make things right. Let us be men of God, going ahead doing His work, seeking forgiveness for our wrongs, repenting of our sins. God has the power and wants to lead us on to a true civilization if we will only follow."

During the service, the class president, E. A. Clark, announced the lecture by William G. McAdoo, as a benefit for the Y. M. C. A. to be held at the high school auditorium next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, and the play, "Speeders" which is to be given as a benefit for the Unemployed association, at the high school auditorium on May 25.

Herschel Clayton, former musical director of the class now of Azusa, was present yesterday and sang a solo, "The Ninety and Nine" which was warmly applauded.

"THE WILL TO PEACE" IS TRACED THROUGH YEARS BY RELIGIOUS FORUM SPEAKER

TRACING "The Will to Peace" from the time of Jacob and Esau, down through Sumner and Benjamin Franklin to the present day, S. M. Davis spoke yesterday before the Religious Forum of the First Methodist church.

"The people of the earth," he said, "are, more and more getting the right to administer governments and because of this there is a growing spirit in the world for peace. If we compare the price of peace with the cost of war we find what peace really is worth."

The speaker analyzed the dollar paid in governmental taxes and showed that 15 cents of every dollar paid for internal revenue and balancing the budget goes for civil purposes and the remainder is spent paying for war and present.

"The price you pay for war," he said, "is excessive."

"Do you think it is a good proposition to tax yourself to injure other people?"

National Debt
"In 1914 the national debt was one billion and a half, last year it was 17 billion dollars and this year more. In other words the national debt amounts to between $150 to $200 per capita. The interest on the national debt last year alone was approximately $7,000,000."

"Is it common sense to keep on with wars and pay the bills?" Davis told of the Naval-Hale bill passed by the United States Senate on May 5 authorizing expenditure of approximately two billion dollars to build sufficient warships to bring the navy up to the strength allowed under the Washington and London treaties. This bill carried by a vote of two to one, Davis said and called attention to the fact that both California senators, Shortridge and Johnson voted in favor of the bill.

He said, "It seems strange that at this time, when the nation is trying to balance its budget, the senate should undertake to vote such a big bill on the people."

The Pact of Paris, now a part of international law, is of American origin the speaker declared and told how it was written in the United States by Charles Morrison and Attorney Lewison of Chicago and introduced in the senate by Borah.

Paris Pact Tested
That pact was signed by 55 nations and was given a practical test a few months ago when it was used to settle difficulties between China and Japan. This difficulty, it had been said, would wreck the League of Nations. Instead it strengthened the League through enforcement of the pact.

He quoted Charles Sumner, apostle of peace who, 87 years ago, was severely criticized for an address made before an audience of army officers and statesmen in which he said, "Peace has her victory as well as war."

In connection with this talk Davis pointed out that California was won for the United States in an unjust war with Mexico.

He quoted Benjamin Franklin, economist who said, "There is no good war and no bad peace."

Closing his address Davis said that the people can play an important part in ending war and reminding them that at the August primary and the November election they can replace Shortridge as United States senator if they are not in sympathy with his vote on the Naval-Hale bill.

NEW MINISTER
AT NAZARENE
CHURCH HERE

The Rev. G. E. Waddle, who arrived in Santa Ana this week conducted his first services yesterday as pastor of the Church of the Nazarene in this city. Reverend Mr. Waddle spoke at both services.

At the evening service he took his text from Matthew 7:21, 22. The subject for his sermon was "Two Builders." He said in part:

"This is the close of Christ's sermon on the mount. The climax of all Jesus had said in this marvelous sermon. 'Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.' Christ is not referring to the heathen, or the pagan or the idolater, but 'he that heareth the sayings of Christ.'"

"Notice the striking resemblance of the Two Builders. Each of them hear the 'sayings' of Christ, with equal interest, as far as we know. Each of them are aware of the approaching storm and recognize the need of a building of refuge; and each of them go about the erection of a house of safety."

"The only difference suggested by the Master is the foundation upon which they build. Paul says, 'other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' The danger is that we build on Church membership, morality, good deeds, works of benevolence, or even an upright life and leave Christ out of our building. Christian character built upon Christ can never be moved. The storm is inevitable, which shall try every man's building, and the only house that will stand the storm is that which is built on the sure foundation, which is Christ the Savior of us all."

"Christ said to Peter, to know me the Christ is to have a revelation from God, which is not given by flesh and blood, and 'upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.'"

Reunions and Picnics
OKLAHOMA
The annual picnic reunion of the Oklahoma folks will be held all day, Monday, May 20, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. The occasion will be made a mammoth all Southern California rally. The program of music and oratory will follow the basket dinner hour. President John A. Whalen and his co-workers are planning to make it the greatest event in the history of the Oklahoma State society of Southern California.

Need Right Motive
"The first thing to do toward getting a job is to have the right motive. God wants us all to live peacefully and to have our own homes. No man can get a job by folding his arms, sitting around and saying there is nothing to do. He must busy himself doing something."

"The trouble in America today is that we have set God to one side instead of putting Him in our lives. That is one reason for the steals that have been made by the rich from the poor. When are we going to wake up and put God back in our work and our homes? Where we put Jesus depends on whether we are going to keep our jobs or not."

Powerful Institution
"There is no institution in the world so powerful as the church, yet there is no other that has wielded so little influence in the past 10 or 15 years. It behooves the church people to stand before God and have our hands made clean and our hearts made pure. We must stand for righteousness and integrity and must stand by God. God has said be true to me and I'll be true to you."

"The church is in a position where it can go forward and save America, or America will be lost. Republicans or Democrats are not able to do it. God alone has the power. Christians, I appeal to you to turn to Him and re-pledge your lives to His service."

PASTOR TELLS CHURCH POWER
IN HARD TIME

Help for those caught in the difficulties of these troublesome times was the theme of the sermon at the First Christian church yesterday morning by the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan, pastor. A number of Bible references were cited during the course of the sermon as the pastor stressed the fact that in these days more than ever, the Bible is a source of strength and inspiration and the church has the power to aid others.

One Scriptural reference used was "Ye have not passed this way heretofore." "That is quite applicable to these times," the Rev. Mr. Buchanan said. "Very few of us have before passed through such days as we are now. Some, though, can remember possibly when hard times resulted in a lack of food in the home and father patched the family boots to make them last. It was not felt so much then possibly because the world was not on such a high standard as it is now. Problems now are faced by business men, housewives and husbands that they have never had before."

Families Should Stand
"Wives and husbands should stand together now as never before. Now is not the time to break up homes. Yet many are falling to help each other under the stress that comes."

"Some even face the loss of their homes for which they have worked hard, and if there is a hell, I am sure that men who hold mortgages and push for payments now when people have kept the interest paid and are doing their best to pay on the principal, will be there. This is a time for prayer by Christians. Look to the Bible and Christ for strength."

"This is not the time to cry and whine and quit. It is a time to trust Jesus, and do as He told His disciples when the fishing was poor—'Push out into the deep.' Christians, have faith. Let not your hearts be troubled. We have Christ as our Saviour and the Holy Spirit as our guide. Christians must assist each other and the world today more than ever. Now is the time to seek God and strengthen your faith."

"Another Scriptural reference I want you to remember is this—'I was young, yet now, I am old, yet I have never seen the righteous going hungry or his seed begging for bread. There is no perishing on the face of the earth who put his faith in God and shared his income with God.'"

Need Right Motive
"The first thing to do toward getting a job is to have the right motive. God wants us all to live peacefully and to have our own homes. No man can get a job by folding his arms, sitting around and saying there is nothing to do. He must busy himself doing something."

"The trouble in America today is that we have set God to one side instead of putting Him in our lives. That is one reason for the steals that have been made by the rich from the poor. FRUIT COMMITTEE
TO MEET MONDAY

Members of the orange prorating committee, directing the program recently adopted in an effort to keep the orange industry "out of the red" this year, will meet Monday afternoon in the offices of the Orange County Farm bureau.

R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the farm bureau, spent the entire day yesterday in Los Angeles and is working today gathering information relative to valencia shipments. This data will be presented at the Monday session. The committee members will study figures relative to last year's valencia orange shipments, the year's estimated crop and the amount already shipped this year in an effort to learn exactly what percentage of Southern California's crops already has been signed up for the prorating program and to ascertain where the unsigned balance is located. More signers to the prorating agreement also are expected to be present at the meeting.

"BIBLE UNDER FIRE" TOPIC
FOR LECTURE

"The Bible Under Fire," a lecture delivered by Evangelist Fred E. Bennett of Chicago at the Free Methodist church, Fruit and Minister streets, Sunday afternoon, has been given before schools and colleges throughout the nation. The speaker said in part: "The attack on the Bible began before it was written, just as the principles of our Constitution were assailed before that document was written. Why should the early Christians be assailed because they knew whence they came, where they were going, and the reason for it came, which was fellowship with the resurrected Christ?" "They are like a lot of frogs," the evangelist quoted the old Roman Celsus as saying, "croaking in a pond—a lot of old women and children, anarchists against the Roman army and government."

"The Bible has been in the center of every century of progress. In the fifteenth century it was connected with the invention of printing (the original manuscript to be seen in the great Huntington Library, Pasadena); in the sixteenth century it opened the way for religious liberty; in the seventeenth it inspired new ideas of government and the literature of Milton, Baxter, Dryden, and Bunyan; in the eighteenth the historians, Lecky (not a Christian), admits that the conversion of John Wesley changed English civilization and 'today we will either accept the social and personal message of "Christ First" spirit and in truth."

"Then too God is calling some away from the orthodoxy and conservatism of the Christianity of 'Ur of the Chaldees' to a more advanced interpretation of religion and to different concepts. Religion has advanced and become finer by reason of progressive religion of rare souls who have refused to be bound by the old conservatism. Witness such spirits as Amos, Micah, Jesus, Paul, Martin Luther and Zwingli. Let us not get too much disturbed when God calls our young people to new molds of religious thinking and to new forms of action. Let both conservative and liberal be sure to build his altar to the Lord his God."

"Moreover, God calls men and women out from the conventional modes of living to do the unusual tasks that need the doing. Jane Addams and Florence Nightingale, Wilfred Grenfell, Russell Conwell are called out from their country and kindred to do the unusual and the spectacular phases of work. And God still calls men out to the missionary field. Stanley Jones hears the call to India as distinctly as Abraham heard the voice of God and young people of all Christian communions are going to the far away lands leaving their country and kindred and fathers' houses to build their altars of preaching and teaching and medical work in the name of the Father of Jesus Christ among men that need to know the love of his fatherly heart."

Mothers, Daughters Feted by Guild

Nearly half a hundred mothers and daughters took advantage of the invitation extended by the Westminster guild of the First Presbyterian church, to attend the Mothers and Daughters banquet, annual undertaking of that group, in the Y.W.C.A. Thursday night.

A welcome was extended the mothers present by Miss Ruth Warner, while Mrs. Vall Crawford responded on behalf of the guests of honor with remarks which were equally timely.

The informal talks which followed were especially appreciated. Mrs. A. V. Gray giving a most interesting description of mothers and daughters of China, while Mrs. T. Davenport recounted incidents descriptive of the mothers and daughters encountered by her at her mission station in Caracas, feature of the evening was the Venezuela. Another enjoyable puppet show staged by Walter Kring.

Miss Jeanne Leiva, president of the guild, was in charge of the banquet, with Mrs. Hiram Currey, guild patroness, assisting in a hostess capacity.

Class Members Are Guests at Dinner

Miss Mildred Marchant entertained with a covered-dish dinner in her home in Tustin recently, when she was hostess to members of her Sunday school class of the first Baptist church.

Miss Onofre Madrid Complimented at Bridal Shower

What was planned as an evening of merry games in compliment to Miss Onofre Madrid, soon to become the bride of Elwood Joseph Robinson of Los Angeles, resolved itself into a typical trousseau party when guests Friday night of Miss Madrid's sister, Mrs. George Hubbard, demanded to be shown the lovely things that the bride-elect has assembled in readiness for her approaching marriage.

The party was given in the Hubbard home, 1518 Spurgeon street, where masses of sweet peas, fragrant and lovely in their wide range of delicate colors, were used to give a pretty bridal setting. The evening was a delightful one, as guests were privileged to see the trousseau even including the graceful gown which Miss Madrid will wear as a bride.

The refreshment hour seemed to arrive all too swiftly, but brought its own special charm as guests found places around the flower-decked dining table. To the honoree was delegated the pleasant task of cutting and serving the sandwich loaf, which was a feature of the menu.

Immediately following the refreshment hour, the guests showed Miss Madrid with many lovely gifts in wide variety, and their inspection provided sufficient entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Sharing Mrs. Hubbard's hospitality were her honor guest, Miss Madrid, Mesdames Harold Edie and Norval Basker, Alhambra; Ethel Parrish, Long Beach; Robert Lufberry, Helen Hitt, Raveau Raymond, Edith Brooks, Everard Fowler, and the Mesdames Edna Ebersole, Margaret Young, Helen Benthien, and Gertrude Somers, Santa Ana.

White Shrine Gives Hard Times Dance And Card Party

The hard times' dance and card party given Friday night at Masonic temple by members of Damascus White Shrine, proved to be a successful affair greatly enjoyed by the large group of members and friends in attendance.

Prizes for scoring first and second high were won by Mrs. August Whisenand and Mrs. Thomas Overton. Mr. Overton won the prize for the best hand times costume. Other costume awards were won by Mrs. Janet Martin, Mrs. J. Coulson and Lewis Williams.

A large group of guests spent the evening dancing. The waltz prize was won by Miss Charlotte Martin and George McConnell.

Members of the committee in charge were Mrs. C. H. Ryan, general chairman; Mrs. C. E. Moore, Mrs. William Straussberger, Mrs. W. W. Berry, cards; Miss Henrietta Bohling and Mrs. Hugh Henry, tickets.

Punch was served during the evening by Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jemison. Music for dancing was provided by Mrs. Janet Martin, piano, and Fred Dawson, Mr. Kauffman and Melvin Patterson.

MRS. HARRY THOMAS

When the Little Theater guild of Orange County presents the three-act farce comedy, "Speeders," in the high school auditorium Wednesday night as a benefit for Santa Ana's unemployed, the play will be directed by Mrs. Harry Thomas, of Fullerton. Not only will Mrs. Thomas have the responsibility of a director, but she will take part in the production as well, playing the comedy relief roll of "Clara Robertson."

Mrs. Pritchett Named To Presidency of U. D. C. Group

Elected to the post of president of the Emma Sanson chapter of the United Daughters of the Veterans, Mrs. Lillian Pritchett will succeed Mrs. Gertrude Montgomery in that office at installation rites to be conducted at the June meeting of the order, it was arranged Thursday, when chapter members gathered in the lovely home of Mrs. T. L. Hill, 725 Mortimer street, for their May session.

Mrs. Pritchett's fellow officers for the approaching term will include Mrs. Ernest Cox, first vice president; Mrs. Jessie Luchsinger of Anaheim, second vice president; Mrs. Lillian Pritchett, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Louise Montgomery, registrar; Mrs. C. E. Price, recorder of crosses; Mrs. Alice Turner, chaplain, and Mrs. Rebecca Pope, historian. Mrs. Turner, re-elected as chaplain, has held this post in the chapter for many years.

A proposal to amend the chapter's by-laws by adding the office of custodian of property will be voted on at the June meeting.

Of immediate business concern were the reports on the recent U. D. C. convention attended by a representative delegation from the Santa Ana group. Reviews of convention details, including business sessions, programs and entertainment, were offered by Mrs. Lillian Pritchett, Mrs. Clarence Nisson, Mrs. Ray Stedman and Miss Gertrude Montgomery, who, as president, read the report of local chapter activities which she had submitted to the convention. This report was declared to have been commented on most favorably by conference officials and was heard with great interest by Santa Ana members.

A discussion of "Modern Poetry and Poets of the South," tendered by Mrs. J. Parley Smith, embraced a wide field of representative writers of southern background and introduced extracts from prominent reviews and criticism of their work. Mrs. Smith's paper was modern in its approach and so impressed her audience that the chapter voted to forward it to the state historian.

Tes, with open-face sandwiches and other delicacies, was served guests by Mrs. Hill with the aid of her hostess committee, Mesdames Alice Turner, Lavinia Mayfield and Lola Shropshire, while Mrs. Hill's daughters, Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch, Mrs. Aldrie Worwick and Miss Basile Hill, were of equal assistance in serving.

Pretty Luncheon Given By Four Hostesses In Kays Home

Planned as a last hospitable gesture before they leave the Day Nursery committee of Ebell society, Mrs. W. W. Kays, Mrs. James L. Allen, Mrs. C. E. Blacow and Mrs. Oliver H. Umberham gave an unusually enjoyable luncheon Friday for the remaining members of the board and for a few additional Ebell women who have worked so faithfully with them during their term of office.

The party very appropriately held in the home of Mrs. Kays, who has done such splendid work as chairman of this important group. Her home at 528 West Santa Clara avenue was made doubly attractive by the many flowers placed in the rooms, especially the lovely clusters in tones of deep blue, golden yellow and silvery white which centered the luncheon tables.

Several members of the committee were absent, but those who were able to share the hospitality of their co-workers were Mrs. J. E. Liebig, Mrs. E. F. Museum and Mrs. Rowland P. Yeagle, while others to whom this pleasant courtesy was extended included Mrs. Paul Bailey, Ebell president; Mrs. Robert J. Tutthill, a past president; Mrs. Perry Lewis, Mrs. W. W. Perkins, Mrs. Samuel P. Nau, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. Edward C. Erwin and Mrs. Emmett Elliott, most of whom have served on the board in the past, or have aided in its various undertakings.

Following the luncheon hour, guests enjoyed the friendly companionship endeavored by stitching on quilt blocks or knitting a comfort, all to be used for the Day Nursery. There were three especially pleasant features of the afternoon, which, like so many kindly deeds, were done so quietly that not all those present were aware of them.

Mrs. Perry Lewis brought a great box of the candied grapefruit for which she is noted, and which was served as a part of the luncheon menu and for dainty tidbits during the afternoon; Mrs. S. W. Nau made the quiet presentation of a check for ten dollars to Mrs. Kays to be used for Day Nursery needs before she quits her office as chairman; and Mrs. Liebig and Mrs. Perkins left as a memento of their pleasant afternoon in the home, a beautiful oil painting for their hostess.

This was the work of Mrs. Perkins, whose ability is recognized by her friends and art critics, and who is studying under William A. Griffith of Laguna Beach.

Of the quartet of hostesses, Mrs. Umberham will return to the committee to serve out the term of Mrs. Blacow, the latter planning to sever her connection with the society at an early date as she and Mrs. Blacow are leaving Santa Ana.

Porter will arrange the remainder of the program.

Mrs. Joe Shell is in charge of arrangements and assisting her will be Mrs. Vernia Hartert Wing, Miss Ella Kianer, Mrs. Gladys Weatherbee, Miss Leona Freeman, Mrs. Ida Lee, Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Miss Adelaide Proctor and Mrs. Christine Lambert.

Miss Todd Entertains At Bridge Party in Ranch Home

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the bridge party at which Miss Polly Todd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Todd, was hostess to a group of friends from Santa Ana, Orange and Anaheim. Rooms of the lovely ranch home were decked with early summer blossoms, sweet-petaled snap-dragons and fragrant stock predominating.

Three tables of bridge were in play and when tidbits were collected it was found that high score had been made by Miss Charlotte Harnois, second high by Miss Lola Blythe and third by Mrs. Marion Fort.

Refreshments were served in the sunroom where the cool green of ferns and growing plants made a delightful setting for the attractively appointed tables which were centered with crystal baskets of flowers. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. S. W. Todd in serving the dainty collation.

Present other than Miss Todd were Miss Willa Foster, Miss Bernice Boyd, Miss Charlotte Harnois, Miss Velma Smith, Miss Thelma Gerard, Miss Marian Young and Mrs. Eldon Eby of Santa Ana; Mrs. Northrop Ellis, Miss Lola Blythe and Miss Dora Tedford of Orange; and Mrs. Marion Fort of Anaheim.

Cradle Roll Tea Given In Honor of Mothers And Freinds

One of the prettiest Maytime events was the silver tea given last week in the educational building of the First Christian church, honoring mothers of members of the Cradle Roll department of the church. Over 125 mothers and guests and 75 members of the department were present for the enjoyable occasion.

June Wedding Inspires Series of Charming Shower Events

As Miss Elizabeth Skiles and Glenn Moody of El Modena plan to be married in June, Mrs. Lawrence Barnett and Miss Opha Coulson of Santa Ana and Mrs. Eugene Hald entertained recently in the latter's home at Costa Mesa, as a compliment to the bride-elect.

Bridges was played during the evening, with Miss Skiles scoring high and Mrs. Elwood Coate, low. Miss Skiles also received an assortment of lovely miscellaneous gifts from her assembled friends. At the close of the evening, refreshments were served at the card tables, centered with rosebuds.

Those present other than the honorees, Miss Skiles, were Miss Helen Hamilton, Mrs. Nick Betzel, Miss June Cunningham and Miss May Hasenjaeger, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Robert Linco of El Modena; Mrs. Elwood Coate and Miss Iva Van Dusen of Orange, and the hostesses, Miss Coulson, Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Hald.

Friends Learn of Baby's Arrival

Mrs. and Mrs. Irving Paustell of Laguna Beach, were receiving congratulations today from their many friends here on the birth of an 8-1/2 pound son Friday afternoon at the Long Beach Maternity hospital. The little lad has not been named yet.

Mrs. Paustell is foreman of the Laguna Beach Gas office, and is a former employee of the gas office in Santa Ana.

The new baby is the second child in the family, as the first is a daughter, Dorothy Marguerite, six years old.

Spring Time—Back to the Primitive!

What did Adam 'n' Eve do for castor oil and spring tonic? They did without, as we could well do if we were brought up right.

Everything necessary to health and well-being, from birth to death, is contained in food, if we are to believe the scientist's word. Man is composed of 16 or more chemical elements, all of which are to be found in food and water.

This trouble is, we get away from the primitive foods. Hunt down the vitamins as though your life depended on it if you want to feel like a million dollars and look like two. Eat plenty of fresh vegetables, cooked mostly, raw if you can get away with them. Plenty of the ordinary fresh fruits, cooked or raw. Go lightly on the starchy foods (bread, potatoes, pastes, etc.); limit amounts of meats if you are fully grown, lots of milk and butter. Be temperate in the use of tea and coffee.

This is just a sensible diet, but it includes those 16 chemical elements of which the body is made, and which the body is constantly losing. You can readily see why some folk are constitutional grumblers—they are not replacing the chemical elements by eating correctly.

TODAY'S RECIPE CHOCOLATE MARSHMALLOW CAKE

1-2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, whites beaten separately
1-2 cup sweet milk
1-2 cups sifted cake flour
2 level teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
I like to use butter for cakes and cookies whenever possible. Nothing takes its place when it comes to flavor. However, if you want to use one of the new fluffy vegetable shortenings you can do so; just add extra salt.

Rinse your cake bowl in warm water, cut the butter in pieces and cream it to a fluffy mass. During the creaming add the sugar in small amounts, rubbing it thoroughly into the butter. And now the yolks of the eggs, well beaten and mixed with vanilla, are added. Only two of the whites are used for the cake, the third is kept for making the frosting. Add the two stiffly beaten whites alternately with the milk to the cake, beating in a little flour each time liquid is added.

Of course, you must sift flour before measuring, then twice after baking powder and salt have been added to it.

After all ingredients are in, beat the cake batter for FIVE minutes and always in the same direction. Contrary to most cake recipes using beaten whites, this cake is well beaten to insure fine texture. Bake in two layers or in a sheet, and ice.

(See tomorrow's column for the frosting recipe.)

This cake, without its frosting, has a calory total of almost 2000. Energy and heat units, as are all foods using butter, sugar and flour.

Asparagus time is with us in all its glory, and is there any better vegetable grown in all the world than asparagus? I don't think so. But how do you cook it and what do you serve with it? If you'd like new ideas and new ways to serve this vegetable send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and a free copy of INTERESTING WAYS TO COOK ASPARAGUS will be mailed right away.

'LETTY LYNTON' WELL RECEIVED AT BROADWAY

The "wild oats" sowed by youth form the structure of one of the amazing screen plays of the year in "Letty Lynton," in which Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery appear at the Broadway theater.

Miss Crawford, as the heiress, spoiled and petted by society, wrecking men's hearts with every whim, is a glamorous figure. In the dramatic climax, when, gripped in the trap of her own indiscretions, she faces the choice of prison or a wrecked reputation, she gives what is probably the most effective performance of her entire career.

Montgomery Scores
Montgomery, as the flippant young American who turns fighter when the happiness of the girl he loves is menaced, makes the most of an excellent role and adds another hit to his list of scoring characterization.

Nils Asther, the Swedish screen hero, returns with his newly mastered English and is a fascinating villain as Renaul, the South American, Lewis Stone is compellingly forceful as the district attorney and May Robson, the famous stage star, contributes a masterly performance as the stern old mother. Louise Closser Hale contributes comedy in the role of the maid, Emma Dunn, Walter Walker and William Pawley round out the excellent cast.

Tustin W. C. T. U. Plans Luncheon

TUSTIN, May 23.—A luncheon and program honoring mothers will be held Wednesday by the Tustin W. C. T. U. in the banquet room of the Presbyterian church, Mrs. Helen Finley, president, stated today. Each member of the union is asked to bring a guest and also to contribute a covered dish for the luncheon, which will be served at noon, Mrs. Martha A. Preble and Mrs. Kate C. Ebel are in charge of the afternoon's program of music and talks by prominent W. C. T. U. officials.

LOVERS

Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery in a scene from "Letty Lynton," now showing at the Fox Broadway theater.

'IMPATIENT MAIDEN' AT FOX WEST COAST

"The Impatient Maiden," Universal's latest picture starring Lew Ayres, Mae Clark and an all star cast, opened a three-day engagement at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday, bringing to the screen a delightful romance.

The picture concerns a boy and a girl, of entirely different natures and outlooks on life, who, thrown together in a big city in rather an abrupt way, fall in love with each other in spite of their attempts to belittle the other in their own minds.

Ayres plays the role of a young doctor, an interne in a city hospital. Miss Ayres is secretary to a divorce attorney and has a modern view of things, with marriage far in the background. Marriage to Ayres is something far off, due to his apprenticeship as an interne, but both their plans are spoiled for them.

Una Merkel, John Halliday, Andy Devine, Helen Jerome Eddy and Ethel Griffies have important roles in the production.

'X MARKS SPOT' AT WALKER STATE

A thrilling newspaper drama, "X Marks the Spot," closing tonight at Walker's State theater, ranks an excellent piece of picture craftsmanship in every detail.

Headed by Lew Cody, the cast is a notable and capable one. In the foremost role is Wallace Ford, star juvenile borrowed from Metro Goldwyn for the role of "Ted Lloyd," a newspaper columnist. Although a newcomer with but two pictures to his credit, Ford delivers a performance that stamps him as a real screen find.

Sally Blane, Fred Kohler and Mary Nolan have the principal supporting roles, with a surrounding cast that includes Hank Mann, Charles Middleton and Richard Tucker.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

"Oh, tell us more about the house. We'll keep as quiet as a mouse," said Duncy. But the still man snapped, "I've told you all I can."

"If you are real good Tinymites and go there, you will see some sights. And now, who wants to try my stilts?" Up to him Duncy ran.

"Oh, I do! I do!" he cried out. "I know what they are all about. It's been years since I've walked on them, but I am going to try."

"A tumble is what I expect, but hold me till I stand erect," then to the Tinies he said, "Stand aside while I walk by."

The still man helped him place his feet up on the stilts. "Now, be discreet," he warned game little Duncy. "Take it easy when you start."

"The stilts are safe if you will treat them right, and stay upon your feet," "Well, here goes," answered Duncy. "I hope I don't fall apart."

He walked a little ways and then was back down on the ground again. The stilts had tipped far forward and poor Duncy took a jump.

"Aw, these things are too high for me. I was as dizzy as could be," said Duncy. "If I walked again, I'd simply be a chump."

This made the still man laugh out loud. And then he shouted to the crowd, "Once more my kind suggestion is that you be on your way."

"That strange house isn't far from here. By walking fast you'll bring it near," "All right! Come on," said Scouty. "We will reach that place today."

And so they walked along real fast and reached the little house at last. "That is strange," whispered Coppy. "Gee, I wonder what's in there!"

"The Scrub-a-dubs live here, you see. Say, I'm as curious as can be. We'll find out just what they are like. I'll knock upon the door,"

(The Tinies meet the Scrub-a-dubs in the next story.)

SHIPMENTS OF VALENCIAS TO EAST IN GAIN

FULLERTON, May 23. — A gradual pickup in the number of cars shipped by the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange is reported by George Crawford, manager of the above organization, 129 carloads of valencias being shipped last week, compared with shipments of 135 cars the week previous. He announced a schedule of 150 cars of oranges to be shipped for the present week.

Market conditions continuously fair at present with no material advance reported during the last week. However, some encouragement is felt by local shippers due to the fact that the price had continued fairly steady with a slight improvement noted.

Some of the picking now being done in the groves in this section is for sizes. However, in the groves that have already been cleaned up, the crop has been running strong to 25's and 28's and there is a gratifying lack of size 34's, which was the peak size in many of the groves last year. There is a surplus in this size this year, Crawford stated.

At the present time in Fullerton, 10 orange packing houses are now in operation, four being exchange houses. The American Fruit Growers' house is shipping valencias from Fullerton as is the Mutual Orange Growers' house under the management of Otto Ide. Four houses that are buying fruit for cash are operating. Cash buyers at the present time are paying from one cent a pound to one and three-fourths cents a pound, depending upon the sizes and quality of fruit in the grove.

The lemon market has shown a marked improvement, according to Crawford. Auction prices during the past week averaged from $4.50 to $5 a box delivered, with

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 23.—(UP)—With trading back to levels of 1924, the stock market moved back and forth in moderate swings today as traders marked time pending outcome of developments designed to bring the country out of the depression.

A rise in progress through several hours of trading ran into profit taking near the close. Weakness in a few individual issues increased irregularity.

Some of the late selling was ascribed to the defeat of the beer bill in congress.

Unemployed Will Can Food for Use In Winter Months

FULLERTON, May 23.—A food canning campaign will be started immediately by the Workers' legion, Fullerton unemployed group, O. M. Stillians, one of the officers of the organization, has announced.

He stated that it was the plan of the organization to start work immediately on the canning of several barrels of sauerkraut and that the individual members will be encouraged to can food during the next few months for winter needs. Efforts will be made by the Workers' legion to supply the vegetables and fruits without cost wherever this is possible, he stated.

Instructions will be given where needed on the best methods of preparing canned foods in order to prevent any waste.

The office at 233 West Santa Fe avenue has taken over all the duties of distributing milk, bread and vegetables, which formerly were dispensed at 208 West Commonwealth avenue. This latter place is now used exclusively for the distribution of the Red Cross flour throughout Northern Orange County.

According to Stillians, representatives of the La Habra unemployed have requested assistance for the purpose of organizing a similar group in that community.

"HOW JAPANESE CHRISTIANS REACTED"

In the early days of the Japanese invasion of Manchuria and Shanghai people in the United States looked to Japanese Christians, lovers of peace such as Mr. Kagawa, Michio Kozaki, Miss Michi Wawai, Mrs. Tomi Wada Kohra, Motorjiri Sugiyama and others for an interpretation. The Christian world looked to such as them for the facts. Their position was most difficult. They were a minority in a country in which the majority was violating all their beliefs, ideals, teachings, and yearnings. Theirs was a dark hour—the darker because of their own position in the eyes of the world.

T. T. Brumbaugh, director of the Wesley student foundation in Tokyo, writes an article in the current Christian Century which treats on the subject. He is close to those whom Christian people in this country have been impatiently anticipating hearing from. The title of the article is: "How Japanese Christians Reacted."

The outbreak of hostilities came so suddenly, says this author, that the Japanese Christians did little more than await a better understanding of the factors involved. Certain ones, however, did call upon the government to check the advance of the Japanese armies and seek the peaceful settlement of the Manchurian incident.

By October it was evident that the military authorities were out from under the control of the Japanese cabinet. In December the Wakatsuki cabinet fell and rumors began to circulate that unless the entire nation united behind the attack on China and presented a united front to the world a reign of terror would follow. Up until that time, says the writer in the Christian Century, enlightened Japanese had believed that the affair with China was aimed against the bandits in Manchuria. They had been disinclined to criticize their own authorities for not presenting the case to the League of Nations, since they felt that Japan was not dealing with the central government of China, but with the troops of a Manchurian war lord and his bandits. In other words, it seems that up to that time they had believed what had been suggested to them to believe.

With the invasion in Shanghai, however, came disillusionment. "Noted Japanese educators and business men became cautiously outspoken in opposition to such policies," says Mr. Brumbaugh. Then the "Blood Brotherhood" began to get in its deadly work against those who were showing too friendly an attitude toward China and other nations. There have been a number of significant deaths the past few months. With the assassination of the Premier and bomb throwings last Monday the activities of the "Blood Brotherhood" assumed the proportions of a reign of terror. Where threats have not silenced tongues, death has.

After the dark days in Shanghai a group of Japanese Christians went to China and met there with a group of Chinese Christians. It is said that the Japanese contingent when it returned to Japan was a sobered and chastened group. "Few had previously any conception of the destruction and devastation wrought by the contending forces in that most crowded section of all China," says this writer.

It must have marked their darkest hour. They had gone to China to discuss ways and means following the way of peace, for means of promoting mutual understanding, cooperation and fellowship between the two countries. They were confronted with tragedy and havoc which brought them a feeling of shame and impotency.

Christian people in this country cannot be too impatient with the Christian people of Japan. The urge of patriotism, backed by a "Blood Brotherhood," is difficult to resist.

If they ever run out of fish to put in the river where Hoover fishes, we might suggest that some of the Wall Street surplus be used.

"BACK TO THE LAND"

In France they are stimulating a "back to the land movement" by offering a prize to the French novelist who writes the best book dealing with the idea. The prize consists of three hundred bottles of the best Burgundy wine. Maybe the wine is to help the writer to forget his foolishness.

THE BIG ONES SURRENDER

The Annalist, which represents the big interests of the country, in its issue of May 13, confesses it is ready to concede the advisability of a government loan for construction work throughout the country. Hitherto it has opposed such uses of the public money; but the appalling amount of unemployment and the utter insufficiency and break-down of the private charity idea makes it necessary, in the mind of the editor, to give a rather reluctant consent to such a plan.

It is this against which the big interests have protested with all their might. Congress reluctantly followed their counsels. The President stood with them. Those members of Congress, like Senator La Follette and Senator Costonig, at least, have the satisfaction now of saying, "I told you so." They predicted that private charity could not meet the situation. The big public drive of Mr. Gifford's organization, backed by every agency of propaganda, gathered an amount that did not leave the slightest dent upon the problem. It has been shown that in a crisis of such stupendous proportions, the Federal Government must step in. Who knows that if wiser counsels had prevailed, and the government had faced the problem in the big way in which it faced the crisis of a war, we might long ago have been on the way to economic recovery. It is another proof that we need not look for wisdom in those quarters where the blame for the present conditions lie, and where healing counsel was not to be found when the storm of depression broke upon the country.

CARFARES FOR CHILDREN

The question of fares on street cars for children has always been a debatable one. The child at 5 or under has usually gone free. And the child of 12 and under usually goes for half fare. There has undoubtedly been a good deal of fraud connected with these exemptions. A big five-year-old and a big 12-year-old is very apt to be the object of suspicion to the conductor, sometimes to the embarrassment of the parent; while a little five-year-old and 12-year-old gets by without question.

In Detroit the street car company has tried to establish a more reliable standard of judgment, at least so far as the little 12-year-old is concerned. The child is judged by its height rather than by its age, actual or assumed. The street car company has installed a measuring rod beside the collector of fares. As the child steps on the car and passes this rod, the collector takes a squint at the child beside the rod; and if the child measures 44 inches or under, a half fare is collected; if above, a full fare is charged.

This, it seems to us, is a great improvement over the old system. No opportunity to pass a big hulk of a child for a 5-year-old or a 12-year-old, and no embarrassment for an honest mother who wants nothing more than what she is entitled to. Incidentally, it may spare the reputation of a parent with a child, when that parent has been in the habit of lying about the child's age to save a nickel. We have always wondered if it were worth while to destroy confidence of a child in a mother for five cents.

Placing the Responsibility

Christian Science Monitor

How often does a motorist have to prove himself a menace to public safety before being deprived of the power to endanger the lives of others?

The question is pertinent in view of a recent tragic happening in Massachusetts. The twenty-year-old driver of one of two colliding automobiles has behind him a long record of highway traffic violations, his license having been twice revoked in four years. In the present case, in which the two occupants of the other vehicle were killed, a passenger in the car driven by the young man asserts he had been pushing the machine along at sixty-five miles an hour until urged to slow down, and officials report that it was his car that was on the wrong side of the traffic lane.

In the sad circumstances it may remain impossible to adjudge where all the fault lay, but the Registrar of Motor Vehicles is quoted as saying that so long as he is in office this particular license will be permanently revoked. This decision will seem to many a belated one.

The majority of automobile drivers are law-abiding. Too many are not. In the State of Massachusetts alone the suspension and revoking of operators' licenses frequently exceeds a thousand a week. Sterner penalties would act not only as a deterrent to traffic rule violation, but would make the highways safer for the pedestrian and the careful motorist.

Reading the account of the disaster in question many will have asked themselves, "Where does the ultimate responsibility for it lie? With the driver of unenviable record or with the State that set him free to jeopardize public safety after unmistakable exhibitions of reckless irresponsibility?"

A Pennsylvanian Talks About Western Senators

Fresno Tribune

A. Edward Newton, who is well known as a book collector and writer about his hobby, recently burst forth in the Atlantic Monthly with a tirade against the "backwater states" of Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho and some of their neighbors.

He likes neither their scenery nor their politics. He calls them a "drain upon the entire country." And he thinks it outrageous that each of them should have two senators. One senator to represent all of them is Newton's idea.

All of which is amusing and not to be taken seriously. It only proves that as an observer of the political scene Newton is an excellent book collector.

But it seems just worth the trouble to ask Newton if he ever heard of Senators Borah, Walsh, Wheeler, Costonig, Nye and Norris, all of whom are from the states he regards with such contempt, all of whom belong to the nation quite as much as to their home states, and the loss of any one of whom to the senate would be a national calamity.

Newton is from Pennsylvania. Does he prefer the kind of senators that state produces? Does he regard men like Penrose, Philander Knox, Joe Grundy and James J. Davis as great statesmen? Newton will find it safer to go back to his library if this is the best he can do.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

IN THE LIMELIGHT

For many, many million years,
So science has attested,
The atom had no qualms nor fears
That it would be molested.
Although this pleasant rolling earth
Could not exist without it,
Nobody sought its weight or girth—
Nobody cared about it.

Confucius gave it not a thought,
Demosthenes ignored it,
King Midas not an atom bought
Though he could well afford it.
It was not named in ancient tomes,
And this was no erratum
For no one in Athenian homes
Had heard about an atom.

And yet in every land and clime,
As age long ago succeeded,
The atom lingered all the time
And did its stuff unheeded.
It hid away, unknown to men,
In Hadrian's sequester;
It tipped, of course, the flowing pen
That set down Homer's verses.

But now we've traced it to its source,
We've learned about its habits;
We know it is a cosmic force
That multiplies—like rabbits.
A crowd of scientific chaps
Now stand in awe around it,
And if they let it loose, perhaps
We may regret they found it.

The Golden West Citrus association, recently incorporated, shipped out its first car of oranges from the newly completed orange house in Tustin. The new company chose General, Colonel and Captain as its brand names. Ten packers and a score of other employees were engaged at the new building. The lemon house, which began operating in March, had sent out 14 carloads of fruit.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

WAR DEBTS AND DEPRESSION

There is but one point of view from which realistic statesmanship should now consider the problem of war debts, and that is from the point of view of what they are doing to the current economic life of the world.
The war debts, considered in terms of a business operation, are a liability against which no corresponding asset can be set.
They are radically different from debts incurred to promote a constructive profit-producing enterprise that would produce new assets.

They are, on the contrary, debts that were incurred for the express purpose of destroying assets.
In other words, the war, considered in terms of its effect on the economic enterprise of the world, was comparable to a private industry's deliberately burning down or blowing up whole sections of its factories, and productive equipment on which no insurance was carried.

What would an intelligently administered private industry do in the face of such a destruction?

The answer is obvious.
It would, by clean surgery, write this lost capital off its books and start afresh.

As Kuno Rentaus has pointed out, in his The Twelfth Hour of Capitalism, "If such items stood in the accounts of any private business, they would long ago have had to be written off or the business would have gone under. Had the World War been waged by a private capitalist, or by two, both would long ago have gone bankrupt. Since, however, the prestige of the victor is bound up with these liabilities, they are retained in full and carried forward as though they represented living capital, no matter how much that business enterprise, World Trade, suffers."

If we could, for one year, forget emotionalized notions of prestige and muzzle the slyster politician, we might restore the world's economic life by the use of elementary business house sense.

BEFORE COMPANY

Nobody wants to be shamed before his neighbors. The strong force of self respect, the need of position in the community is in every one of us, strong as life itself. When our children show badly we feel doubly the pain of their failure. Half our ache would vanish if the neighbors could be closed out of our difficulty. They can't. They are a part of our lives and we have to reckon with them as long as we live. Better make the most of it. Better take them as a matter of course as one takes the coming of the morning newspaper.

We have to teach the children a decent respect for the rights and feelings of others. If we don't they will suffer themselves and we with them. In teaching them this regard we are likely to err on the side of timidity. We fear what the neighbors will say more than we fear the error the children may fall into. The children catch that fear and use it. That is what makes them behave like all possessed when we take them visiting or when company comes to our houses.

There is only one way out. Teach the children by experience that we do not fear exposing them and ourselves to the friends about us but we will deal with their escapades precisely as we would if there were no guests in the house. Next time the young urchin or urchiness sets a performance take the necessary steps to maintain discipline and good breeding. Remove the child from the room and settle the matter then and there. Don't sit in torture while your child impresses the group with his childishness.

This may seem harsh. It isn't. It is merciful. If you allow a child to make life miserable for a whole group of people you also allow him to injure himself in character and reputation. Keep calm. Deal with the obnoxious one without emotion, on the outside at least, and do not return him to the room unless his mood has changed and he understands what is expected of him.

Don't be deceived by the apparent peace of the neighboring household. Don't imagine that Caroline, whose babies are always in bed by six, whose house is immaculate, whose brow is unruined, has a hundred percent job any more than you, whose children stage a scene at the slightest pretext. There is no such thing as the perfect child, the perfect family. Nature doesn't come in perfection once a century and your lot is no worse, no better than your neighbor's.

We all keep our family secrets as closely as we can. You are not going to tell Caroline what a time you have with Jean and her breakfast, with Tom and his noise, his tempers and tantrums. No more is Caroline going to tell you the struggle she has had to put those angel children safely in their cribs. Each family puts its best forward and that helps all along the line. But it doesn't strike fear into our hearts. We know.

Let the children understand that company or no company, visiting or at home, there are certain things that are not done and if they are done retribution swift and certain follows. You will solve at least one bothersome problem if you do.
